Determination of optical axes of anisotropic dielectric spheres in the RF domain

Development and testing of a method to determine anisotropic axis in anisotropic dielectric spheres at microwave frequencies.

This project includes study of the properties of dielectric materials, simulations with EM software and real measurements.

Knowledge of RF basics is strongly recommended.

This Master Thesis will be carried out in English language.

→ M.Sc D. López Cuenca, 0711 685 67421, lopez-cuenca@ihf.uni-stuttgart.de